VACATION RENTALS

Vacation rentals are an economical, practical option for families, couples or groups who would otherwise have to pay for more than one hotel room. Sharing a vacation rental lets you strike a compromise between togetherness and privacy; you can enjoy family meals together in their private kitchen, but you will also have enough space for everyone to come and go as they please. Parents will appreciate not having to get the kids dressed to go down to breakfast in a hotel restaurant -- in your own kitchen, PJ's are perfectly acceptable! Maybe you need to take a nap while others are playing a game or you want to just have some quiet "alone" time while others are conversing. Basically being in a vacation rental gives the family or friends time to be together but also time alone from one another.

Vacation rentals, in most resort areas, are up to 80% off retail rates with Travel Services Unlimited. Vacation rentals are normally 8 day/7 night stays. Typically vacation rentals are Saturday to Saturday, while fewer have Friday to Friday or Sunday to Sunday schedules.

In most cases, you can get more space for less money when you choose a vacation rental over comparable hotels in the area. Also you can save money by cooking some quick meals and have that full kitchen when you need it.

Most vacation rentals are one, two or three bedrooms. There are some four bedrooms but the availability is limited. For that really large group, we can offer discounted cabins in the Smokey Mountains and large homes, some with private pools, in the Orlando area.

At the opposite end of the spectrum, maybe you would rather live very large -- and there are vacation rentals for that too. This is your chance to try out a type of lifestyle you have never experienced before -- to live like a rock star in a secluded villa in the Caribbean or play Lady of the Manor in a French chateau. Maybe you cannot afford to buy that $12 million oceanfront property, but at least you can live there for a week!

Requesting a Vacation Rental

When requesting a vacation rental, be sure to include the following information:

- Member Number - (If you know it.)
- Member Name

- Dates of Travel - (If possible give several options or let us know if your dates are flexible.)
- Destination – (Is the destination flexible?)
- Number of People – (How many adults? How many children? If children are included, please list ages.)
- Number of Bedrooms Needed
- Amenities Must Have
- Special Needs - (Examples are near elevator only, no stairs, washer and dryer, etc.)
- *If rental is out of the country, do you have a passport or is a visa necessary?

Hotweeks

Hotweeks are 8 day/7 night rentals that are 60 or fewer days from the current date. These are considered last minute excess inventory (inventory that has not been booked). These vacation rentals have the biggest savings! If you want a busy and popular location, then you might want to book early and not take that chance of getting a Hotweek in the particular area. Remember that Hotweeks are vacation rentals that have not been booked. You normally save up to 80% off retail when booking a Hotweek!

When Not to Choose a Vacation Rental

If you are going to be in a location for a night or two then a hotel may be a better option. Also, if your plans may change at the last minute, keep in mind that a hotel reservation is much easier to cancel than an agreement for a vacation rental. Vacation rentals are non-cancellable and non-refundable. We at Travel Services Unlimited always encourage purchasing travel insurance to protect your investment in case something happens that you cannot go.

Also a vacation rental may not be right for you if you prefer to have room service, daily housekeeping, and on-site restaurants and bars (although the number of serviced rentals is growing). Also, some travelers prefer the more structured environment of a hotel rather than the greater self-sufficiency of a vacation rental.

Where to Find the Vacation Rental for You

On the website you will find a section just for Vacation Rentals. In this section you will find thousands and thousands of options for vacation rentals with a wide range of prices, amenities, and types. We work with many wholesalers that manage many properties so you may find a wide array of platforms for vacation rentals. Inventory can change daily so if you do not find what you are looking for then please give our office a call and one of the experienced travel advisors will assist you.

Here are the top ten reasons most people prefer a vacation rental over a hotel:

1. Private bedrooms and bathrooms mean you do not have to share everything.
2. Choose your ideal vacation rental from thousands of vacation properties. Different beach locations, mountain locations, sizes, amenities and prices have been proven to influence your happiness level.
3. Pack less since you can wash your clothes in the property's washer and dryer. Most vacation rentals have a washer and dryer. If any amenity is important to you, be sure to tell your personal travel advisor.
4. Cook when you are hungry. Stock your full-size fridge and freezer with groceries, snacks or cold refreshments. Your fully equipped kitchen is always open.
5. Normally most vacation rentals have balconies, porches or back areas, most with a scenic view, so you can step out onto your private area to soak up the view of the beach, waterway or golf green while enjoying your morning coffee. You do not have to get dressed for the day!!
6. Hang out in your living or dining rooms instead of having all your friends and/or family sitting on one bed.
7. All your friends and/or family are under one roof and you do not HAVE to stay across town or in different buildings.
8. Dividing up the cost with your friends and/or family is more budget-friendly than the "per night" hotel rates.
9. Get more space and pay 50% less per square foot than the average hotel.
10. Most vacation rentals are quieter because the space is greater! If you have ever stayed in a hotel with thin walls and doors, then you should appreciate it.

CRUISES

Choose to Cruise!

A cruise experience offers the opportunity to experience the world as you choose. Whether you're looking to spend a week relaxing with family in the Caribbean or swim among dolphins of the South Pacific, cruising offers a world of opportunity. We offer up to 20% off the retail rate of a cruise. This discount will be in the form of a rebate check that you receive after you travel. It is nice to have that rebate check waiting on you when you return from your cruise!

When compared to a land vacation, cruising offers a number of benefits:

- You can tailor your experience based on your budget, selecting specific accommodations, dining arrangements and even shore excursions. Most cruises already include dining, and entertainment, offering options for even the most cost conscious traveler.
- Additional expenses may include drinks, casino play, spa treatments, shore excursions and shopping.

- For those looking to indulge a bit more, many cruises offer additional premium dining options, entertainment and even exclusive spaces, such as spas, pools and restaurants.
- A week onboard one cruise ship will offer you a chance to experience a number of enticing destinations across the globe. In one week, many ships sailing through the Caribbean will bring guests to four exciting ports of call, whereas a land based resort only offers the same destination each day.
- A cruise experience offers you the ability to experience as much, or as little of the world as you prefer. Cruises also offer the most flexibility in pricing. This allows all travelers the opportunity to cruise with their preferred budget in mind.

Are you looking to plan your next cruise vacation?

Travel Services Unlimited has the top travel professionals in their field. A Travel Services Unlimited travel advisor can help you select the cruise that best fits your vacation schedule, preference and budget. They make all the arrangements to get you from your doorstep to your ship and back. Travel Services Unlimited travel advisors have completed extensive training programs, including sailing on and inspecting a vast number of cruise ships across many different cruise lines.

Documents Needed to Cruise

We recommend that everyone get a passport if planning on cruising. Some countries will not allow you to visit their country without one. If something happens and you need to return home on a flight from a foreign port, you will need a passport.

Most cruises beginning and ending in the U.S. are considered "Closed Loop," meaning they begin and end at the same port in the U.S. For instance, if you board a cruise ship at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and after visiting at least one foreign port of call, such as Bermuda, or Cancun, return back to Fort Lauderdale, you have taken a Closed Loop Cruise.

If, on the other hand, you board a cruise ship in San Diego, California, sail through the Panama Canal (stopping at a foreign port during the cruise), and end the cruise in Miami, Florida, you have not taken a closed loop cruise and as of June 1, 2009 you need a passport (including infants).

U.S. citizens on closed loop cruises will be able to enter or depart the country on the cruise with proof of citizenship, such as an original or copy of his or her birth certificate (issued by the Vital Records Department in the state where he or she was born) and, if 16 or older, a government issued photo ID.

If you need further information, please refer to our website tab, Resources, for more Passport and Visa information.

*It is the responsibility of the traveler to be certain you have the correct documents for proof of citizenship, visas, and passports needed.

TOURS

Travel Services Unlimited offers many types of tours to many destinations and you will receive up to 20% off the retail rate of a tour. This discount will be in the form of a rebate check that you receive after you travel.

What exactly is a tour? Basically a tour is a journey for pleasure in which several different places are visited. Tours can be classified into a number of categories:

- Package tours
- Escorted tours
- Hosted tours
- Rail tours
- Independent tours

The tour market can be divided by the following:

- By mode of transport (air/rail/sea)
- By distance to the destination (long haul/ short haul)

- By length of holiday (short break/ long holiday)
- By travel season (summer/ winter)

The Package Tour

A pre-arranged combination of not fewer than two of the following tourism services when sold or offered for sale at an inclusive price and when the service covers a period of more than 24 hours or includes overnight accommodation:

- Transportation – air, sea, road, rail, etc. to/from destination
- Accommodation – hotels, guest houses, cottages etc.
- Other tourism services such as transfers between air/sea port and accommodation at destination, accounting for a significant portion of the tour package

Often package tours can include the following additional elements:

- Meals – breakfast, half board or full board (bb; hb; fb)
- Supplementary services – events, city sightseeing, theme evenings
- Entertainment – animation etc.
- Insurance – and other ancillary services

Advantages of a package tour:

- Locating information about a destination reduced, consumer selects a tour from a brochure created by tour wholesaler
- Transaction costs of making reservations with different suppliers are reduced
- Passed on benefits and discounts through bulk buying from tour wholesaler to final customer
- “No hassle” element; everything is arranged for the traveler

Some tour wholesalers now allow tourists to customize their packages, either by designing shorter tours and allowing travelers to combine them together in various ways or have a travel advisor designed the tour.

Escorted Tours

An escorted tour is a group tour which uses the services of a professional tour director. The escorted tour is a structured program of sightseeing, meals, transportation and accommodations. The professional tour manager is in charge of all arrangements. Special-interest tours are generally escorted tours.

Hosted/Guided Tours

A hosted or guided tour is somewhat similar to an escorted tour but the passengers are greeted by a local representative rather than a tour director and will not be escorted to all activities and functions. Local guides will be available to answer questions through the duration of the tour.

Rail Tour

Rail tours offer a unique type of vacation in which much of the transportation is conducted via rail. Trains have been a fascination of many people for years and with these select rail journeys you will get to experience the wondrous view, comfort and excitement of a train with the in-depth experience of a hosted or escorted tour.

Independent Tours

Independent tours usually consist of spending 2 or 3 nights in each location visited and usually only a few locations are visited. A tour guide is normally not included, but there is usually a host available to answer questions and suggest sightseeing. A few meals and some sightseeing are typically included, but a great deal of free time to explore is available. These vacations are ideal for independent travelers looking to set their own pace.

HOTEL

A hotel is a commercial establishment providing lodging, sometimes meals, and other guest services. In general, to be called a hotel, an establishment must have a minimum of six letting bedrooms. At least three must have attached private bathroom facilities.

When you are going to be staying somewhere for a night or two, then a hotel would probably be the best option. Vacation rentals may be an option depending on the location in which you are traveling. Most vacation rentals are for weekly stays but there are some locations that allow it more. Your personal travel advisor will be happy to assist you in making the decision and/or give you various options. Travel Services Unlimited can book hotels that are average to ultra-luxury. On your client profile you will be able to list the hotel groups that you and your family like to use. This will help the travel advisor who is working on your request.

You, as a Travel Services Unlimited member, will be able to book your hotel online or you may call or email the request and we will be happy to give you several options from which to choose. We will always do the work for you and find you the best accommodations for the best price. The travel advisors at Travel Services Unlimited have access to many hotel booking engines made just for a travel business like us. We do have some hotel booking engines that will give our members a discounted rate and we are always striving to add more booking engines that save you money.

Remember we never charge a processing fee or service charge for any booking. Time is money and we will save you time by researching the location and accommodations that best fit your budget and situation.

While staying in a particular location, Travel Services Unlimited can assist you with planning activities such as plays, dinner reservations, shows, excursions, etc. If you are traveling to a new location, then why not experience everything you enjoy? We are here for you every step of the way.

Star Ratings

Do you really understand what the difference is between a 3-star hotel and a 5-star hotel? Does it guarantee a cleaner, friendlier experience that is tailored to your needs?

Most people are under a false impression of what these ratings actually mean. If you think that a 5-star hotel is going to be better than a 3-star hotel 100% of the time you may be incorrect.

So what do the star ratings really mean? Star ratings really only depict the types of services you can expect at the hotel. For example, the difference between stars could be something as simple as the addition of an in-house restaurant or a full-service business center.

What Are Your “Must Haves”?

1. Free Wi-Fi

Wi-Fi is high priority; the faster the better! With the connected world we live in today it has become more and more important for hotels to offer free Wi-Fi to their guests. You may be one of the people that need to be away from Wi-Fi for a truly relaxing time.

2. Central and Close to Public Transport

As they say in real estate, it's all about location, location, location! In larger cities where parking is a challenge, you may want to be close to public transportation such as buses, trains, taxis, etc.

3. Good Guest Reviews

This is why Trip Advisor and other rating sites have been so successful... the quickest way to get an insider's view on a hotel is by reading the reviews. There are some things you may want to consider. Reviews are judgments and everyone has an opinion. Try the approach of eliminating the best scores and the worst scores and take an average of the rest. You want to know what experiences the majority of the guests have had while staying in the hotel.

4. Smoking and Non-Smoking Rooms

If you are a smoker you may want to sit in your room and smoke. If you are not a smoker this can be the one of the most important factors when selecting a place to lay your head.

5. Value for Money

It is true that price plays a very important role when making a decision on which hotel to choose. The key is to make sure you do not confuse price with value. Most of the time you will probably be happier paying a slightly higher rate if you know that you have each and every one of your “Must-Haves” or possibly getting some added benefits to your stay like a free shuttle from the airport.

6. Breakfast Included (or Another Option Available Nearby)

This may not be a requirement in a hotel for you but a good breakfast is a great way to start the day. Throughout traveling in Asia this is a definite must while it is somewhat more difficult to find in the United States. While an in-hotel breakfast might not be available you may find that an option is nearby.

7. Size – Does It Really Does Matter?

Smaller, more boutique hotels often offer a certain charm that the big chains simply cannot. Whether a family-run guesthouse, a Bed & Breakfast or a small hotel, you sometimes have the opportunity to get to know the staff on a more personal level. Some people want to be left alone to work, relax or just be away from it all.

The “Nice-To-Haves”

These are not essential amenities to some people, but if you can get them included for no extra cost that is a bonus. Alternatively if you have more than one hotel that can meet all your “Must-Haves” any of these amenities can provide a great tie-breaker.

- Late checkout
- Transportation – Free or Discounted Shuttle
- Free parking
- 24 hour reception
- Swimming pool
- In-room safe

The “Special Interests”

Finally there are the “Special Interest” amenities. If you have a family traveling together, you may want a kitchenette or inter-connecting rooms to keep everyone together.

Obviously if you use a wheelchair then you need to ensure that you find a hotel with sufficient access also. Here are some special interest requirements to consider:

- Pet friendly
- Disabled access
- Business Center/ Conference Facilities
- Kitchenette
- Connecting rooms

TSA does not require children under 18 to provide identification when traveling with a companion within the United States. Visit our Resources section or contact us at Travel Services Unlimited for questions regarding specific ID requirements for travelers under 18 for specific airlines.

Forgot Your ID?

In the event you arrive at the airport without proper ID, because it is lost or at home, you may still be allowed to fly. TSA officers will request you present two other forms of ID bearing your name. One of the items must bear your name and other identifying information such as photo, address, phone number, social security number or date of birth.

There is no standard list of what alternate forms of ID are acceptable. Examples include: temporary paper driver's licenses, non-driver IDs, social security cards, birth certificates, marriage licenses and credit cards.

You may also be asked to provide additional information. TSA has other ways to confirm your identity, like using publicly available databases, so you can reach your flight.

If your identity cannot be verified, you will not be allowed to enter the screening checkpoint. Keep in mind that this is for airfare only. Other forms of travel such as a cruise, have their own guidelines. Please ask one of our travel advisors if you have any questions.

TRANSFERS

Getting to your destination city is only half the trip, especially if your hotel, cruise port or resort is not located right next to the airport. Making arrangements for your transfer before you arrive saves you time in the airport while alleviating some of the stress of travel. Not all transfer options are the same so make sure you understand the choices of transfers. Yes, our Travel Services Unlimited travel advisor will assist you in making the right choice. We will always make sure you get from Point A to Point B and back to Point A with ease.

What Exactly is a Transfer?

A transfer refers to the method by which you get from the airport or arrival point to another needed location. A hotel, resort or cruise ship transfer is also sometimes referred to as an airport transfer in travel brochures or at airport kiosks. These transfers do not refer to driving your own rental car, but instead, being transported by a professional driver. The transfer includes transport of your luggage and belongings. The transport company will handle the loading and unloading of the luggage.

Transfer Options

A common form of hotel, cruise or resort transfer is via a shuttle service, operated privately or through your cruise line, hotel or resort. The shuttles leave the airport at predetermined times unless they are booked specifically for your arrival. Shuttles include buses, vans or hired cars. This can entail a waiting period from the time you enter the shuttle until it leaves unless a shuttle is specially booked for your travel group. Taxi services are also sometimes used for hotel, resort and cruise transfers.

Transfer Costs

The transfer cost is sometimes included with a hotel, cruise or resort package. When transfers are included transfer information will be with your hotel, resort and/or cruise information, including pickup and drop off times and locations. For taxi transport services, standard fares usually apply unless the cabs have an agreement with the hotel, resort and/or cruise.

Luxury Transfers

Not all transfers require boarding a crowded shuttle or waiting in a taxi line. Some hotels and resorts may offer luxury options, such as limousine service to and from the hotel. If the hotel or resort does not offer you a private limousine and you want that type of service then we can arrange it for you. Luxury resorts or those hotels in out-of-the-way locations may depend on less conventional means for transport, such as helicopters, boats or cable cars. There are even options for adventurous travelers, such as paragliding to your destination.

Requesting Transfers

Normally booking a transfer is normal procedure if we booked your hotel, cruise, resort and/or flight. There are those occasional times when you may need just transfers. If this is the case, then have the following information ready so the travel advisor at Travel Services Unlimited can assist you.

- Member Number – (If you know it.)

- How many children?
- Ages of children, if applicable
- If children need a transfer, do you need a car seat(s)?
- What type of transfer would you prefer?
 - Airport transfer
 - Shuttle

RENTAL CARS

If you have ever traveled for business or pleasure, chances are you may have had to rent a car. In fact, a recent study from Travel Leaders Network stated that more than half of the travelers surveyed requested a rental car while on a business or pleasure trip.

Making travel arrangements can be stressful so be sure to call Travel Services Unlimited so a professional travel advisor can assist you with the options and details. You may also book directly on our website on the Travel – Booking a Car. If you have any questions while booking on our website, then please ask and we will find you a rental car that meets your needs at the best rate available with no processing fees!

Here is our list of Car Rental Do's & Don'ts to assist you while renting a car.

1. DO choose the right vehicle!

Think carefully about what kind of vehicle you will need. If you are traveling with co-workers or a large family possibly having a great deal to haul, you may want a large sedan, van or SUV. If you are looking to save money on rental rates and gas, you will want to reserve the smallest available model.

2. DON'T wait until last minute to book.

If you are traveling internationally, book your car rental well before embarking on your trip, at least a week or more in advance. Not only is it often cheaper, but you will be more likely to get the type of vehicle you want, and are less likely to encounter hidden clauses in on-the-spot contracts, shifting exchange rates upon arrival, or language barriers that can slow the process in person. Domestic travelers should also book early, at least a week in advance of your trip. Booking early gives you flexibility both in terms of choice and pricing. Longer lead times mean more available cars, a broader selection and better rates.

3. DO designate one driver.

Many car rental agencies include additional fees for a second driver. If you are traveling with a family member or co-worker, it will be more cost-efficient to have only one of you be responsible for the driving. Be sure to let your travel advisor know if you must share the driving responsibilities. We can shop around and inquire about fees for adding a second driver to save you money.

4. DON'T overlook insurance.

Car rental agencies want to sell you insurance to cover the car in case of an accident. However, most car insurance companies' coverage (the coverage you have on your own personal automobile) transfers over to the rental vehicle during the time the rental is utilized by you. Be sure to call and verify this information with your insurance agency. If you are not covered adequately by your own insurance policy, if you do not own a car or have your own car insurance, then you might want to consider the rental agency's options. Any insurance is better than no insurance. If you are traveling internationally your U.S. auto insurance does NOT cover you abroad. (There may be some exceptions to the rule if you are a US citizen traveling to Canada and Mexico). When renting a car overseas, make sure the rental company provides auto insurance with the rental package. In some cases, you may need to consider purchasing additional insurance coverage if the coverage they provide is not at least equivalent to what you carry at home.

5. DON'T forget to look carefully at the fees so you will know what to expect.

Is there a penalty for no-shows? Will the company charge you if you drive more than a specific number of miles? Do not forget to inquire about the price you will have to pay for returning the car late in case something unexpected occurs. Sometimes returning a car early means you will pay less and sometimes it is more! If you are getting a special weekly rate, returning the vehicle early may be extra costly, as some rental companies will cancel your discounted rate. Other companies will prorate fees for the days you did not use, so you will pay a little less. Some tack on a $10 to $15 early return fee to your bill. Therefore, make sure you understand the company's early return policy before dropping off the car. The rental company will also add on the required state, city, or county taxes and their own sales tax rates to the price of your rental car. You may see other fees too, like a "vehicle licensing fee" or an "energy recovery fee." Keep in mind your rental company will likely place an authorization hold on your credit or debit card upon your reservation. A hold means the company reserves on average anywhere from $300 to $500 through your bank account or credit card. The company will not process the held amount unless you fail to return the car as specified in your contract. Keep in mind you will not have access to the money while on hold.

6. DO inspect the car before signing anything.

While most car rental companies would not trouble their customers with a claim unless it was serious, some see damages as a profit opportunity. This is why it is so important to give the car a pre-rental inspection. Note every ding, scratch and dent, no matter how insignificant. Unless you are the first person renting the car, you should take notes on the rental agreement, pinpointing even the slightest scratch. It may also be a smart idea to take a photo of every angle of the car with a digital camera or smartphone. It will only take a few minutes and will prove you did not create that scratch on the fender with a time and a date stamp on your photo.

Travel Services Unlimited hope these tips are helpful! If you have any questions or need assistance with rental cars, please give us a call and we will happy to assist you! We are here for you and your travel needs.
